

Common Design For Web Pages Through Employment Of Master Specifications

5

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A master specification is provided to specify a common design for a number of resultant web pages to be generated. The common design includes common content placement, and at least one of a common style and a common navigation
10 arrangement. The content of a first resultant web page is defined employing a first subordinate web page specification, including reference to the master specification for content placement, and at least one of style and navigation. The content of a second resultant web page is similarly defined. In turn, the first and second resultant web pages are generated with first and second contents being placed,
15 styled and/or having the common navigation arrangement in accordance with the master specification.
